Learning At Home

Family Dance Party

Put on your PJ's and turn up the music to host your very own family dance party! Listen to different styles of music and have fun making up new dance moves.

It's Showtime!

Preschool Band

Last month, children began to understand that their ideas can be written and then read by themselves or others. Teachers supported this concept by providing children opportunities to discuss and make lists of their favorite things.

In the creative area, children continued to use their sense of sight, smell, and hearing while creating with paint and other materials. Children sprinkled baking spices into glue, listened to jingle bells on paintbrushes at the easel, and painted with kool-aid scented paint at the table.

This month, children will continue to talk about their creations with peers and adults. They will begin to explore artistic heritages of different cultures using a variety of materials.
